

Parking Changes for Downtown, Southside/Telegraph, and the Elmwood May 1st, 2016

On May 1st, the City of Berkeley will adjust goBerkeley parking rates and time limits to help you find the parking space that is right for you.

- More available parking spaces in high-demand Premium zones at $3.25/hour (Downtown & Southside/Telegraph) or starting at $2.00/hour (The Elmwood)
- Value zones with the option to park for up to 4 hours (Downtown)* and 8 hours (Southside/Telegraph) at $2.00/hour
- Increased availability at the Berkeley Way Lot, the Elmwood Lot, and the Center Street Garage goBerkeley is a City of Berkeley program that improves the safety and ease of travel in three of Berkeley's vibrant commercial districts.

goBerkeley works by raising or lowering parking rates to achieve 1-2 open spaces per block. More parking availability means less circling, more time at your destination, cleaner air, and safer streets for all.

Visit www.goBerkeley.info for more information.

* 4-hour parking in the Downtown "Value" zone begins late June 2016, to temporarily designate more short-term parking for customers while the Center Street Garage is being reconstructed.

